Widening the Circle of Global Citizenship

Aiming for Good Global Citizenship

SGRA

Sekiguchi Global Research Association

What's SGRA?

SGRA The Sekiguchi Global Research Association (pronounced as "SEGRA") is formed from a core of former foreign students who have stayed long in Japan and obtained their doctoral degrees from Japanese universities. Its activities center on the use of the internet as a major communication tool.

SGRA undertakes research and policy recommendations that could be useful to individuals or organizations coping with globalization, the results of which are presented in forums, published reports, and the internet. Multinational and multi-disciplinary teams are formed around certain research themes, and undertake analysis based on a wide knowledge base, network, and data.

SGRA aims to be broad in scope and avoids limiting research to a specialized field.

SGRA aims to work towards the achievement of good global citizenship which would contribute to global peace and the enrichment of humanity

SGRA Management Policy

- Contribute towards world peace and humanitarian enrichment
- Aim towards good global citizenship
- Strive to heighten social awareness to everyday issues based on a multinational, multi-disciplinary perspective and data
- Leverage international networks
- Steadily work together with its members in creating concrete solutions
- Not for profit
